

Momentum

At Momentum, we're on a mission to break barriers and build a more equitable society where everyone, regardless of their background or circumstances, has equal opportunities to succeed. Here's how we do it.

Participatory Labs & Collective Insights

25 workshops | 5 countries | 120+ participants

Over the course of four months from November to February, we united diverse stakeholders committed to promoting the integration of migrant and refugee women into the workplace. Our partners in Greece, Hungary, Italy, Portugal, and Spain hosted participatory labs that provided an exceptional platform for exchanging ideas, mutual learning and shared visioning. The collective insights gained from these workshops added valuable input to our activities and uncovered a shared eagerness among participants to establish more frequent and structured collaborations.

Developing Training Materials

Next, we are excited to announce that we will be providing comprehensive training to enhance the knowledge and skills necessary for professional success. Our programme is designed to strengthen crucial abilities such as effective communication, team building, and fostering an entrepreneurial mindset. Irecoop in Italy has spearheaded the design of the training materials, specifically tailored to equip migrant women with the abilities to thrive in the field of social economy. To ensure the utmost effectiveness, our trainers will be equipped with a comprehensive toolkit providing deeper insights into the themes and issues presented in the modules.

Designing Tools & Frameworks

Interested in fostering multi-stakeholder collaboration to tackle complex global challenges? Our Integrated Collaboration Framework is finally here to help you achieve your goals! This powerful tool can be used to bring together key stakeholders to make a collective impact. In our case, we prioritized addressing the challenges that migrant and refugee women face in accessing vocational training opportunities and securing employment, with a specific focus on women aged 18-35.

1 What is the problem?

Third country national (TCN) women face significant barriers when accessing vocational training and entering the job market, hindering their integration and potential.

2 What are the reasons and causes?

The barriers faced by TCN women are often complex and stem from multiple root causes. These include language barriers, cultural differences, discriminative systems, negative attitudes towards immigrants, lack of coordination among relevant actors, and many more.

3 Which approach should we take?

The complex and multifaceted nature of these barriers call for a tailored and collaborative approach. There is no one-size-fits-all solution to address the issue. Therefore, we need to bring together all relevant actors to develop targeted interventions that consider the unique circumstances.

4 Integrated Collaboration Framework

This framework aims to identify and address the internal/personal and external/social barriers faced by TCN women. It provides a unique and collaborative lens to each barrier and proposes practical mitigation actions to solve them.
